FINAL COVERAGE PREMIUMS

A. For policies newly written on or after the new business effective date of this manual, the rate stability factor does not apply.

B. For newly written cars added to an existing policy:

1. For UBI and WBI

a. The company will determine the applicable premium including all changes to the customer's data profile (Premium A) and excluding those data profile changes (Premium B). The ratio (A/B) is applied to the premium for the prior term (Premium C) to determine the interim premium (Premium D).

b. A rate stability factor may be applied to Premium D to move toward Premium A. This calculation is done separately for each applicable coverage.

2. For all other coverages, the rate stability factor does not apply.

C. For all other transactions,

1. The company will determine the applicable premium including all changes to the customer's data profile (Premium A) and excluding those data profile changes (Premium B). The ratio (A/B) is applied to the premium for the prior term (Premium C) to determine the interim premium (Premium D).

2. A rate stability factor may be applied to Premium D to move toward Premium A. This calculation is done separately for each applicable coverage.

D. For all transactions, a final coverage premium adjustment factor may be applied for each applicable coverage.

E. For all transactions, an auto trend factor may be applied after the final coverage premium adjustment factor.

F. For all transactions, an expense constant may be applied for each applicable coverage.

G. The Marginal Acquisition Expense Adjustment may be applied.

319. TRAILERS AND SEMI-TRAILERS

A. Bodily Injury and Property Damage Liability and Medical Payments

Bodily injury and property damage liability and medical payments on a commercial automobile insured on a policy subject to the Experience Rating Plan (See Rule 851 - Experience Rating Plan) may be extended to each trailer and semi-trailer towed by such a unit at the percentage shown in the Rate Section. If applicable, coverage may be extended without a charge.

B. Physical Damage Coverages

Subject to other manual rules, trailers and semi-trailers may be insured for the same physical damage coverages as available to regular commercial automobiles.

Each trailer or semi-trailer may be rated separately from the towing vehicle and from any other trailer or semi-trailer. If a deductible form of collision or comprehensive is written, the amount deductible may apply separately to each unit.

401. MOTOR HOMES, TRUCK OR VAN CAMPERS

Definitions regarding the classification of motor homes are found below.

1. Age - the policy may be rated based on the age of the principal driver.

    a. To rate the policy for the upcoming term, use the driver's age as of the effective date of the policy.

    b. For newly added drivers, use the driver's age as of the effective date the driver was added to the policy. The pro rata premium will be recalculated for the remainder of the policy term using this age.

    c. If the driver's age at the beginning of the policy term is greater than or equal to 25, that driver will be considered that age for the entire policy term.

    d. If the driver's age at the beginning of the policy term is less than 25, the age will be recalculated on the driver's birthday. The pro rata premium will be recalculated for the remainder of the policy term using this age.

2. Principal Driver - The principal driver is the individual who most frequently drives the motor home.

404. MOTORCYCLES, MOTORSCOOTERS, AND MOTORIZED BICYCLES

Definitions regarding the classification of such vehicles (hereafter referred to as motorcycles) are found below.

A. Classification

1. If the principal driver is a male or unmarried female under the age of 25, the youthful rates shown on the rate page may apply to the motorcycle most frequently operated by that driver.

2. For classification purposes, the following definitions apply:

   a. An individual is considered married if living together with his or her spouse or if a widow or widower. A married couple temporarily living apart for reasons of health, occupation, military service or similar circumstance may be considered as living together.

   b. The principal driver is the driver who most frequently drives the motorcycle.

B. Age Determination - The driver whose age should be determined is the driver whose use was considered in determining the applicable classification in Section A.

1. To rate the policy for the upcoming term, use the driver's age as of the effective date of the policy.

2. For newly added drivers, use the driver's age as of the effective date the driver was added to the policy. The premium will be recalculated and earned for the remainder of the policy term using this age and the table in Section C.

3. If the driver's age at the beginning of the policy term is greater than or equal to 25, the age and associated classification will be used for the entire policy term.

4. If the driver's age at the beginning of the policy term is less than 25, the age will be recalculated on the driver's birthday and the associated classification determined. The premium will be recalculated and earned for the remainder of the policy term using this age and the table in Section C.

C. Suspension, Changes and Cancellation

Any change, suspension or cancellation of coverage may be subject to an earned premium calculated in accord with the following table. The earned premium will be based on the sum of the premium earned percentages, or the pro rata portion thereof, for those months in which coverage was provided.

MONTH	PREMIUM EARNED%	MONTH	PREMIUM EARNED%
January	2	July	16
February	2	August	16
March	4	September	12
April	8	October	8
May	12	November	2
June	16	December	2

Policy cancellations at the request of the insured are subject to a minimum retained premium of $5.00.

800 EXPERIENCE RATING PLAN

851. EXPERIENCE RATING PLAN

This plan provides for the modification of the policy premium by the application of a premium modification factor.

A. The premium modification factor is determined from experience incurred by the policy during the past five years ending with the initial effective date of the policy or the three months preceding the renewal of the policy. If five years of experience is not available, such experience as is available shall be used subject to a minimum experience period of one year ending as specified above. If less than one year of experience is available, the premium modification factor shall be 1.00 for the upcoming policy term.

B. The premium modification factor shall be determined and applied as follows:

1. Determine the number of car years in the experience period represented by the self-propelled vehicles of the policy.

2. Determine the total policy incurred losses (paid losses plus reserves on pending claims) for the experience period after:

a. Multiplying individual coverage incurred losses by the indicated factor below to provide for the inclusion of allocated claim adjustment expense in the loss amount, and

Allocated Adjustment Expense Factors
Bodily Injury Liability	1.10
Uninsured Motor Vehicle and Underinsured Motor Vehicle	1.06
Personal Injury Protection	1.03
Medical Payments	1.01
All Other Coverages	1.00

b. Limiting the amount of loss resulting from any single accident (after providing for allocated claim adjustment expense in the amount) to the "maximum single loss" amount specified in the table below:

Number of Car Years in Experience Period	Maximum Single Loss*
5-21	135%
22-49	67%
50-85	45%
86-132	34%
133-199	27%
200-299	22%

Number of Car Years in Experience Period	Maximum Single Loss*
300-466	19%
Over 466	17%
*Percent of adjusted written premium for the experience period.

3. Determine the total policy premium collected by the Company for the experience period adjusted to eliminate the effect of any experience rating modification. If the policy was insured with another company during any part of the experience period, use the applicable premiums charged by that company.

4. Develop an Actual Limited Loss Ratio by dividing the results of step 2 by the results of step 3.

5. Select the premium modification factor from the table below which corresponds to the developed Actual Limited Loss Ratio from step 4 and the number of car years in the experience period from step 1.

For newer model years:

A. Calculate the difference between the model year of the vehicle and the most recent printed model year in the table above. This is the Model Year Difference.
B. For each applicable coverage, use the percentage shown in the table below and the most recent model year factor from the table above in the following formula:

Model Year Factor x (1+Percentage) $^{\text{(Model Year Difference)}}$

PRIVATE PASSENGER AUTO TREND FACTORS

To determine the trend month for a policy, take the policy effective date less the applicable rate revision effective date (shown in the table below), divide by 30 days, and truncate the number to an integer subject to a minimum of 0. The resulting trend month will be used to select the Auto Trend Factor from the Auto Trend Factors Tables. This factor will be used for the duration of the policy term. The trend month is only updated when the policy term effective date changes.

For newer model years:

A. Calculate the difference between the model year of the vehicle and the most recent printed model year in the table above. This is the Model Year Difference.
B. For each applicable coverage, use the percentage shown in the table below and the most recent model year factor from the table above in the following formula:

   Model Year Factor x (1+Percentage) $^{\text{(Model Year Difference)}}$

   Round to the nearest hundredth.

COMMERCIAL AUTO TREND FACTORS

To determine the trend month for a policy, take the policy effective date less the applicable rate revision effective date (shown in the table below), divide by 30 days, and truncate the number to an integer subject to a minimum of 0. The resulting trend month will be used to select the Commercial Auto Trend Factor from the Commercial Auto Trend Factors Tables. This factor will be used for the duration of the policy term. The trend month is only updated when the policy term effective date changes.

For newer model years:

A. Calculate the difference between the model year of the vehicle and the most recent printed model year in the table above. This is the Model Year Difference.
B. For each applicable coverage, use the percentage shown in the table below and the most recent model year factor from the table above in the following formula:

Model Year Factor x (1+Percentage) $^{\text{(Model Year Difference)}}$

Round to the nearest hundredth.

For newer model years:

1. Calculate the difference between the model year of the vehicle and the most recent printed model year in the table above. This is the Model Year Difference.

2. For each applicable coverage, use the percentage shown in the table below and the most recent model year factor from the table above in the following formula:

   Model Year Factor x (1+Percentage) $^{\text{(Model Year Difference)}}$

For newer model years:

1. Calculate the difference between the model year of the motor home and the most recent printed model year in the table above. This is the Model Year Difference.

2. For each applicable coverage, use the percentage shown in the table below and the most recent model year factor from the table above in the following formula:

   Model Year Factor x (1+Percentage) $^{\text{(Model Year Difference)}}$

   Round to the nearest hundredth.

Note: To determine the Bodily Injury and Property Damage Liability premium for an inclusive limit not found in the table above of amount A, discount the otherwise applicable premium for multiple limits of A/A/A by the factor below:

Factor

UBI
Limits (000)	Factor
25/50	1.00
50/100	1.18

For newer model years:

1. Calculate the difference between the model year of the motorcycle and the most recent printed model year in the table above. This is the Model Year Difference.

2. For each applicable coverage, use the percentage shown in the table below and the most recent model year factor from the table above in the following formula:

   Model Year Factor x (1+Percentage) $^{\text{(Model Year Difference)}}$

   Round to the nearest hundredth.

REPOSSESSED AUTOMOBILES - FINANCE COMPANIES AND BANKS

Automobile finance companies and banks may be insured for the repossession, recovery, and use of financed automobiles in connection with their resale.

The premiums for bodily injury and property damage liability shall be determined as follows:

A. The semiannual base rate per car repossessed shall be

Base Rate
$0.25

B. The advance premium shall be determined by applying the base rate per car repossessed to the estimated number of automobiles repossessed.

C. The premium shall be determined by multiplying the total number of cars repossessed during the policy period by the base rate per car.

D. Commercial Limit Factors Apply.

Minimum Premium
$25.00

E. Any other coverage required by law will be provided at no additional charge.

Exceptions:

A. This rule does not apply to automobiles repossessed, owned, or operated by finance companies and banks and used in the business of the insured or for pleasure purposes. Such automobiles shall be insured in the regular manner.

B. This rule does not apply to a finance company owned and operated by an automobile sales agency.

LOCATION

This section provides details on the location rating factors and territory definitions.

LOCATION RATING FACTORS

A. For private passenger automobiles other than those listed in Section B, the Location of the automobile shall be determined as the place where the automobile is principally garaged.

   Use the Location to determine a GRID ID. If a Location does not produce a valid GRID ID, then use the centroid of the zip code to determine the valid GRID ID.

B. The following procedure applies to determine the Location Rating Factors for policies insuring Experience Rated private passenger automobiles, antique and classic automobiles and replicas, motor homes, and motorcycles, and policies with a named non-owner endorsement.

   - Determine the location of the address used to determine the territory of the vehicle.
   - If the location produces a valid GRID ID, use the Location Rating Factor. If the location does not produce a valid GRID ID, use the appropriate Territory Rating Factor (Antiques/Classics/Replicas, Motorcycle, Motor Homes, Named Non-Owner, Experience Rated Private Passenger).

Note: Updates to data obtained from non-State Farm sources, such as those used to determine latitude and longitude, will be used in the subsequent determination of the LRF.

ACTUARIAL RESTRICTED

The rules, rates and premiums in this section are available to the Home Office Actuarial Department only.

FOR ACTUARIAL DEPARTMENT USE ONLY

COMPANY CAR FLEETS AND AUTOMOBILE SCHEDULE RATING PLAN

A company car fleet is defined as any number of self-propelled vehicles owned by or under the direct control of State Farm Insurance Companies. All such policies containing the same expiration date and coverage limits shall be combined for the purposes of experience rating under Rule 851 - Experience Rating Plan.

All such fleets are eligible for a rate modification reflecting specific characteristics of the fleet, in accordance with the "Automobile Schedule Rating Table", to the extent that such characteristics are not reflected in any experience modification otherwise applicable.

The modification shall apply to the total premium for all coverages.

The maximum modification shall be 25%.
